PRESS RELEASE 09/09/05

FINAL WEEKEND FOR STEAM

This weekend is the final call for everyone to board the summer steam trains at the Downpatrick & County Down Railway.

For anyone who hasn't had the chance so far to travel by rail at its most traditional, then come down for the European Heritage Open Days this Saturday and Sunday, as after this weekend the trains won't be running until the October Halloween Ghost Trains!

Free tours of the station and workshops, showing the restoration work in progress, will be given and from 1.30pm till 5pm the steam train will be chuffing between Downpatrick and Inch Abbey.

While the tours are free, a trip on the train costs £4.50 adult return, £3.50 child return and £15 family return. Singles from either station are available on request.

For further information telephone 077 9080 2049 or log on to www.downrail.co.uk
